Dustin Hamilton

Dustin Hamilton joined LeGros Buchanan & Paul in 2009, and is engaged in various aspects of both the litigation and transactional components of the Firm's practice areas-including business transactions and employer representation in employment disputes in state and federal court.

Dustin started his maritime career as a U.S. Navy Deep Sea Diver, performing salvage and ship's husbandry work throughout the North Pacific. He transitioned into an underwater ordnance disposal diver, and subsequently spent several years in the commercial fishing industry, primarily in the Pacific Northwest and Bering Sea region of Alaska.

Dustin received a Bachelor of Science degree in Informatics and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Comparative History of Ideas from the University of Washington. He received his J.D. from Seattle University School of Law, cum laude. Dustin interned at a local law firm engaged in a varied civil litigation practice involving both plaintiff and defense work, and was an extern for the Honorable Richard F. McDermott at King County Superior Court. Dustin continues to support Access to Justice through community and state programs.

Dustin is admitted to practice in Washington, Alaska and Oregon. He is also admitted to practice before the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington.
